What Worked for this ISWG?

- An automated tool such as DISRonline with access to an extensive repository(s) seems to be useful
- A focus on a transformation to net-centric services and issues are important

What Needs to be Done Differently?

- Confusion from inability to know the originator of comments and the inability to respond to the comment

- Ability to establish a baseline of change requests for review and comments

- Ability to select and search by primary owner

- Ability to identify/notify the duplicated and/or transferred change requests to primary owners instantly
